Windermere from near Bowness. To see Windermere as a whole it should be sailed up from south to north; Bowness only takes it in the middle. The middle view is, however, very beautiful, and Windermere is the most popular of the Lakes as well as the largest.

Dearest Eddie,

How long since you have written, I should have written before, but have been very ill, for six weeks. I had a very bad attack of my heart. I tried to come for Jennie's - it was touch & go with me. I have been better, & thank I shall be better, but the Dr says I must never exert myself in the least so shall really have to be lazy. Will write again soon

Catbell, Derwentwater. Derwentwater, called of old Keswick Lake, is the most beautiful, though not the grandest, of the Lakes. It is nearly oval in shape, three miles from north to south, and one and a quarter miles at its greatest breadth. The Catbell hill stands about 1,100 feet high on the west side of the Lake, and a fine view may be had from its summit.
